A Model Village.

In a paper on "Our Village Improvement Society," in the April Now Lippincott, Eben E. Rexford says:

"Each summer affords us fresh proof of the wisdom of our undertaking. Visitors from the city compliment us on the spirit of progress visible on every hand. 'It doesn't look like the same place,' they tell us. 'You have made a model village of it, your sidewalks put our city pavements to shame because of their trustworthiness. Your homes show thrift. Your public places are kept in as tidy a condition as your homes are, and that's something that can't be said of many villages. We like it here, and we're coming again.' And they keep their word, and our village is becoming quite a summer resort. So we have found that what we have done with very little inconvenience to ourselves has proved a good advertisement for the place and its people, and the present prospect is that we shall get back many times the value of labor and money expended in improvement, for several sales of property have been made at much better figures than prevailed before we began our work. The increase in value of real estate is directly attributable to the improvements which have been made by our society."

April Delineator for sale at Mills. We also have the agency for the celebrated Butterick Patterns.

The wrecking of the Pelican bridge across the Wolf last week did not cause so much injury as was at first reported. Mr. Roberts was hurt quite badly and one of his horses but neither were fatal injuries.
